WHARF AND WAVE.

The steamer Kauai sails for Lahaina tomorrow at 4 p. m.
Good weather and light northeast winds on Kauai, with 17,750 bags of sugar awaiting shipment.
Captain Parker, of the bark Oregon, coal laden from Newcastle, which arrived last Saturday, is accompanied by his family as passengers.

The steamer Maui brought a light list of cabin passengers and forty-four on deck yesterday from Kahului and a small cargo of sugar for the Nuanu.

The steamer China docked at Pacific Mail wharf at 7 o'clock in the morning and sailed for the Orient at midnight last Saturday. She was delayed by bad weather.

The British steamer Garonne is back from her initial voyage to Honolulu, says a Seattle paper of December 26th. It is understood that she paid expenses. She had very little return cargo and is scheduled to sail again in a few days.

Capt. Willard, late of the bark Amelia, is now in command of the bark Ceylon, which arrived from Tacoma yesterday with a cargo of coal. Capt. Calhoun, formerly of the Ceylon, is in San Francisco.

The barkentine Kikiki, which arrived from Port Townsend yesterday, cleared from that port November 15th for Honolulu, but returned and discharged her cargo of lumber and repaired ship and sailed again on December 21st.

The barks Amelia and Ceylon and barkentine Kikiki all sailed from Port Townsend the same day for Honolulu. Capt. Willard, now in command of the Amelia, is a brother of the present master of the Ceylon. The Amelia will probably arrive this week.

The steamer James Makee, after a five days' absence from port finally arrived back from Kapa yesterday morning. On account of the heavy easterly swell running at Kapa, she could not make that harbor for four days and was anchored in Hanalei bay from the 10th until the 14th inst.

One of the finest and staunchest vessels on the coast is the new schooner Mary E. Foster, recently built at Port Blakely by Hall Brothers, for Sam Allen, of Honolulu. She is neat, trim and a picture of marine architecture. Her master will be Capt. Thompson, late of the bark R. P. Rithet. She is taking in lumber at Port Blakely for Honolulu.

A box of our candies makes a most acceptable Xmas present.
